Officer Hess, of the Fourth precinct, arrested last evening a colored boy named Thomas Quaries who, with others, was throwing stones at the John Wesley church, on Connecticut averue, during the progress of a festival. A number of complaints had been made of the mounvemence and danger caused by boys stoning the studing during the festival, which has been in progress for several days.

THE RECENT BURGLARIES.

Arrest of two of the Guilty Parties-The following account of the arrest of two no orous burglars is taken from the Baltimore brough burglars is taken from the Baltimore

Sun't yesterday:

"Twomportant arrests in connection with recent burglarity committed in Baltimore were made last night weity detectives. It will be remembered that twebness of Mr. Robert Levering, corner of Townsead and Decker streets, was entered by burniars ask, Wednesday morning and a large quantity of vallable goods was bundled up ready for removal, who, they were interrupted by a man who had been ent to the house from Mr. Dennmead's (father lajaw of Mr. Levering).

When the man went in h saw two men coming down stairs. In ansper to his questions as to what they were doing there, the thieves replied: "Don't you how that this house has been broken open by burglars and robbed? We are detectives and have been sent to work up the case. We have arrested og of the parties and have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the house, supposing the other might have been seeking through the parties and drove off. Of course it was soon itsoorered that their statement was false, and a sacription of the men, horse and wagon was furnished to parties of the same description. A house on land the strength of the same men.

Within a very short time of their appearance at Mr. Levering's, a house on Choptank stage at the statement was false, and a sacription false and the strength of the same description. A house on land the strength has been stopping. It has done the same description. A house on land the strength has been stopping. It has done the same of the same men. Within two hours affect a strength of where they had been stopping. In that time, however, they had returned the horse and vehicle-paid their bill at the hotel, and hurriedly left. It was shortly learned that they had gone away from the city. Since that time a strict watch has been kept in order to capture them if they should return, which the police department expected they would do. Last evening Chief Detective Crone heard that two men answering their description had just come to Baltimore. Detective Shaffer, kimbail and Mitchell were sent to look them up, and in a short time brought their priscoers to headquarters. Their identity being established, they were locked up for a hearing today. A search of their baggage revealed the tools with which they do their work, and also some valuables in the way of jewelry, which are believed to have been stolen. A number of robberies were perpetrated in Philadelphia in the same way a short time sgo, which it is suppessed were by the same men.

Yesterday afternoon about half past two o'clock private watchman T. B. O'Connor and M. A. Pann, noticed a fight of a very vigorous character in progress in the Smithsonian grounds between two men. The watchmen hastened to the spot and secured she combatants, whom they turned over to effect Markwood, who looked them up on the complaint of the watchmen in the central guard house. The names of the parties arrosted are J. B. Weller and Charles Mahon, the former a cattle broker and the latter reputed to be a salestin a store man; at the corner of Green and Beall streets, Georgetown.

It afterwards appeared that Mahon, who had been drinking, had met Woller's wife at the corner of Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue, who had made an appointment with him to meet in the Smithsonian grounds. He had proceeded over there, and was waking with Mrs. Weller, in one of the pathways, when Weller came driving along in a buggy, and sening Mahon waking arm in-arm with his wife, jumped out, and proceeded to deal numary justice. Weller struck Mahon over the right eye with a home-made sling shot, and knocked him down, after which Mahon again syrang up, and putting his hand behind him threatened to shoot Weller, when the parties were arrested, just in time to prevent may series result. Makon's face was well marked when the prisoners were brought to grow on his eye where he was struck with the sling-shot.

Weller soon procured ball for his appearance in the Police Court to-day, in the person of Mr. James Hahn, who went on his bond. Mrs. Weller skirmished around in bahall of Mahon, and about siz o'clock traceceded in finding parties to go ball for him, when he was released.

Mrs. Weller is a woman well-known to the policometh, although she has never before come before the public. She has become notorions from a habit of riding up and down the avenue in a rakish conveyance, and firting with a peckethandkerchief to passers by.

We are here this evening under peculiar circumstances. A few short months ago we were entire strangers to each other. We have come, some of us from the North, seme from the extreme South, some from the Middle States, and still ethers from the far West. Under the generous policy exercised by the proprietors and managers of the institution to which we are now so happily related, and especially through your impartiality and disinterest-edness for the welfare of all the interests which have come under your supervision as foreman, all these various elements have become harmonicusly blended, and we feel confident that it must be a source of great satisfaction to the Chronicle Publishing Company, to witness the feeling of brotherhood and unanimity which exists among its attaches. To them and to as it is cause for much regret that you have decided upon returning to your Western home, and that we are to be deprived of your precence and counsel even for a time. You can rest assured that you carry with you the kind regard of all with whom you have been so satisfactorily associated while in Washington, and many years of active, useful life.

In accepting the gift, Mr. Whitford thanked, the denors for the unexpected gift, and briefly referred to the peculiar cocasion of their business association, which had continued for but a few short months. THE WASHINGTON DRIVING ASSOCIATION

Programme of the Pall Meeting. The Washington Driving Association, although only in the second year of its existence, has now become a fixture as a permanent organisation in this district. Its inception was brought about by gentlemen partial to turf sports, who were estimated that racing in this section of the country had degenerated to so low a standard as to place it almost beyond the possibibility of elevation, but determined to make the effort to revive the course, sud-ses if trotting, properly managed and honestly conducted, would not receive recognition from the community, and deserving encouragement.

There were residents of the city, lovers of fast horses, who enjoyed the sight of witnessing animals speeding on the track and closely contested races. They were sanguine in their own minds that a park possessing suitable accommodations for the public, and inducements held cut to the ewners of fast stock to bring their horses here, would be the means of reviving good racing, and be well patronized. In this become a fixture as a permanent organisa:

INITIATONY NOVEMENT
only a few persons had the courage to venture in the undertaking, and these wers Messrs. A. F. Britton, Charles W. Hayes. A. T. Whiting, W. B. Moses, and Major A. C. Richards, gentlemen well known to the citisens, and the mere announcement of their names as founders of the ascocation was a sufficient guarantee of the success of the project. They immediately organized under the name of the Washington Driving Association, secured a lease on the track at Brightwood, and united themselves with the National Trotting Association, being governed by the rules and regulations emeaning from that body.

Improvement was immediately begun on the course and buildings connected therewith, but which was not commenced any too soon, for the march of decay and destruction was visible on all sides. The alterations made a marked change in the appearance of the park, and reflected credit on the management. Being a young association, not wishing to become involved in debt at the outset, small purses were offered at their first meeting, and as a consequence no entries, cutside the District were received. Novertheless, the trotting took place, the purses were paid to those entitled to receive them, the meeting was successful, and a handsome balance remained in the treasury of the association.

FROUD OF THEME PROFFRAITY PROUD OF THEIR PROSPERITY

remained in the treasury of the association.

PROUD OF THEM PROGRAHTY

and grateful for the endorsement of the public their attendance had given them, the members resolved, at their next meeting, to take another progressive step toward making themselves and the course known to the world beyond the District, by holding out inducements for the owners of horses to visit here and exhibit their stock. At the same time additional improvements sprang up in the track, revealing the fact that the trotting course had finally fallen into hands capable of its, management and men who would deal honestly with its patrens. The second meeting brough horses from West Virginia and Maryland and resulted even more successfully than the previous one. These were followed by others until that of last spring when the Lascociation had the pleasure and satisfaction of presenting horses from seven different states and giving a better and mere exciting series of frotting races than has ever secured before in this District.

Previous to that meeting the association was incorporated, $20,000 of additional stock was issued, subscribed for almost immediately, and additional members admitted to the society. So prosperous were they last Sprink that they possessed the remarkable and gratifying ability to declare a handsome dividend on stock that had not been issued scarcely six weeks.

THE RACES WERE LARGELY ATTENDED.

THE RACIS WERE LARGELY ATTEMBED, and pessed off pleasantly, the horsemen being much pleased with their reception and treatment and expressing their intentions of not only bring their stock to the fall meeting, but would proclaim the honesty and straightforward dealings of the association to others owning race-horses and induce them to come and participate, which promise, from what information the secretary has received, he feels satisfied has been faitsfully kept. In arranging for the approaching meeting, the officers of the association, in order to secure a larger attendance of horses than they have had previously, and thereby make the meeting eclipse all their former efforts, they deemed it best to follow in behind the racing at Point Breeze Park, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, which would be the termination of the eastern circuit for the fall season.

THE LEADING HORSES THE LEADING HORSES

would be assembled at this course, and with these races their engagements close, and the officers of the association reasonably argued that it would be the most seceptable opportunity for getting them to come in this direction. The cost of transportation would be small, the joint trifling, and as the "fiyers" were about going into winter quarters, it was thought that no better aport could be selected for them to make a farewell appearance than the course at the Capital of the nation. The subject received due consideration, Mr. Britton, the President, and Mr. Hayes, the Secretary, giving the matter their personal supervision. These gentlemen visited the city of Brotherly Love and affiliated amongst that turf med. They were pleased to fine visite the reputation of their society for honesty had preceded them, and on every hand they received the utmost courtery and were assured that if it oldy remained for horsemen to make their fall meeting a success.

SKIPP BACK IN THE EASTERN BRANCH

The Annie the Winning Boat-The Annie the Winning Boat.

For several days past, the residents of the eastern section of the city have displayed considerable interest in the proposed skill race that took place yesterday on the eastern branch of the Potomas river. Various surmises were indulged in as to who would win the handsome niver cup, offered by Captain John A. Balley, to the propeller of the winning boat. Bets were freely tendered by the friends of the different favorites and promptly accepted. The arrangements for the race were complete, and reflected credit on the gentlemen who had the matter in charge. With commendable forethought a boat was provided for the convenience of the members of the press, and in it the representative of the National Republican took his position to witness.

For nearly an hour before the time named for the start, crowds of people could be seen wending their way to the Anacostia bridge, and at half-past five there were fully two thousand people on the structure and surrounding binds, while the waters of the branch were studded with beats of all shapes and sizes from the graceful cutter of the U. B. Navy down to the clumly market boot. A little after hws c'clock Meters. John A. Balley, John Rountree, Frank Morgan, William Kealey, and William Balley, the Judges assembled at Captain Balley aboat landing, and directed indee Kealey to take charges of the stake boat, and note the order. In which such skiff turned at that point, while the other judges took position at the winning post, about two hundred yards from the bridge.

At $.00 p. m. Captain Baily fired a shot from a fewling piece as the signal for the skiffs to get in position, and they formed in line about 200 yards from the bridge, in the following order: the Sprigtail, George Langley; the Tom Walker, Samuel Fowler; the Annie, L. Beach: the Ortolan, George Lattle; the Reed Bird, George French: the Slipper, George Lawrence; the Green Wing, Henry Scott; the Blue Wing, Pallip Munrield; the Red Head, Charles Hutton; the Mary Jane, William McKenny; and the Dipper, John Leskett: When all was ready. Captain Bailey fired the second shet and the skiffs started, the Reed Bird leading followed closely by the Annie and the Mary Jane. The race from the starting point to the starting boat to the starting point to the starting steadily. They rounded Jadge Realey's barge in the following order: The Annie, Blue Wing, Slipper, Dipper, Tom Walker, Ortolan, Mary Jane, Sprig Tail, and Reed Bird, the Green Wing and Red Head having given up the gheet before reaching the turning point. On the home stretch Lawrence, with the Slipper, took the second place in the race, and followed the Annie, rowed by Mr. Beach, passed the judges' boat. The Blue Wing, rowed by Mr. Philip Mansfield, came in third, followed by the other skiff in about the same order as they passed the stake beat.

After the race ended a number of the interested parties repaired to the rasidence of Capitain J. A. Balley, to witness the presentation of the cap to Mr. Heach, Dr. Aaron W. Miller making the presentation speech. He said, "Sir: I have been in the habit of handling cmps for the past forty years, but it is not often that the grasp of an empty one gives me as much pleasure as on this eccasion. Athletic sports are ancient and honorable. They were indulged in by the Greeks and Romans, and the man whese prowress gained him the prise offered, not alone received it, but also the smiles and applause of the fair sex. To-day, by your prowress, you have won this cup. Its intrinsic value is not great but it will always serve as a pleasant reminder of the eccasion on which it was so gallastly won. After the close of Dr. Miller's address the majority of the assemblage dispersed.

The Annie, the winning boat is ewned by Capt. J. A. Balley, and is a trim little craft.

The Mary Jane was sent around from the stemboat wharf to beat the Navy yard boys, her pesition in the race shows how iar she succeeded. Mr. L. Beach, who paddled the Annie so successfully is a powerful young man, about by years of age, and weights about one hundred and eighty pounds. It is the intention of those who stranged this race to repeat it early in Seplember,

PUSS OAKLEY

Arrested for Petit Larceny. Detective Coonies yesterday afternoon arrested Sarah Parker, alias Puss Oakley, on the charge of stealing from Annie Faulk a shawl valued at $50, two veils, a hat and pair of shoes. The accused denies taking the shawl, but confesses to the balance of the thefits, and four dollars in money additional. She is the same woman that only a short time since stole a child in Georgetown, and carried it to Baltimore, where she was arrested and the child recovered.

Board of Police. The Board of Metropolitan Police, at its meeting yesterday, accepted the resignation of Private John Russell. The application of Lawrence Rebstock for a liquor license was approved, and Edward T. Farrer was appointed a private on the force.

A chicken died in Auburn, Illinois. It belonged to Mr. Ney or Mr. Lochridge, whose yards adjoined, but to which could not be determined. They quarrelled about it, and tossed the careass back and forth to each other over the intervening fence. Then Ney shot at Lochridge without hitting him. Then Lochridge setsed a club and chared Ney. In the fight that ensued the reviewer and the club were both used freely, and Ney was killed.
